Dear Mr. Cooper,

You are probably aware that the Commonwealth War Graves Commission have been entrusted with the duty of permanently commemorating those members of the Armed Forces of the Crown who lost their lives in the Wars of 1914/1918 and 1939/1945 and to this end they are responsible for marking the graves.

I understand that you are the owner of the grave in which the late TR5/128266 Lance Corporal Frank Edward Cooper, 86th Training Reserve Battalion, is buried in Paddington Cemetery, Willesden. As this grave is marked only by a private memorial which bears no reference to his Service particulars, I now write to say that the Commission would be pleased to erect one of their standard headstones to his memory and the stone would be supplied and raised free of cost.

... You will see from the enclosed sketch that there is a space below the Cross for a personal inscription of not more than 60 letters (not 60 words). If you desire a headstone erected will you please inform me whether it is your wish that the Cross should be

/engraved

CWGC/8/1/4/1/2/160 (CCM55998)

engraved and advise me of your choice of a personal inscription.

Yours sincerely,

A. R. C. PRENTIS.

Director-General.
